

DINING IN ST. REMY

Food lovers will no doubt indulge in St Remy's dining experience which will gratify the most discerning Epicurean. There are indeed many restaurants in St. Remy to please just about anyone's taste from casual family-run businesses to sophisticated establishments. The sample below lists restaurants that are located in the historic center and that feature either French or Provencal cuisine.

Alain Assaud Sophisticated and intimate serving creative food prepared with finesse (Chic)

L'Assiette de Marie Eclectic, Bohemian charm serving creative Provencal food. (Casual)

Auberge de la Reine Jeanne A 17th century stone inn serving high quality classic French food. (Casual chic)

La Cassolette Rustic and charming featuring local peasant stock style food. (Casual)

Le Gaulois Family style and charming featuring mostly French classic food. (Casual)

La Maison Jaune An 18th century mansion with modern decor. Refined cuisine with an emphasis on Provencal dishes. (Casual chic)

Le Mistral Gourmand Charming and typical Provencal food. (Casual)

L'Olivier Charming and intimate featuring local food with an emphasis on fresh produce. (Casual)

La Serre (the Greenhouse) Dine in an interior courtyard packed with plants. Food is eclectic and very fresh...everything from bread to pate is home-made. (Casual)

Chez Xa Charming and innovative, this small restaurant features quality seafood with a Provencal flair. (Casual)

You may also want to check out the following:

Bistrot des Alpilles A popular institution with the locals. Has a sidewalk café, easy-going atmosphere and traditional bistrot food.

Café des Arts Another local hang-out and a good place for drinks and snacks.

Try some local cocktails! "Beaumes de Venice" a perfumed white wine or "Pastis" made with licorice and if you are bold "Cynard" made with artichokes (bitter!)

FOOD SPECIALTY STORES

Olive-Huiles du Monde Saddle up on a bar style stool and sample the best olive oils in the world !

Joel Durand Chocoholics won't be able to resist the alluring display of chocolates and truffles that are sinfully good.

Charmeroy Maison de Gouts Experience a true French tearoom. A charming, intimate and restful oasis with genuinely unusual teas.